TECHNOLOGY SPOTLIGHT

Did you know that NGA works with multiple hearing aid manufacturers? This allows our Audiologists to accommodate patient needs specific to hearing loss level and lifestyle. We also offer a variety of hearing aid accessories from all manufacturers that will connect your hearing aids to your personal electronics such as your cell phone, television, tablet, and computer.

The Intent is offered by Oticon and was released in March 2024. Oticon introduced a new 4D sensor that monitors if and how users move their head to understand the type of communication situation.

Benefits of Oticon Intent

- Clarity
Confidence
Cognition

Widex released their newest hearing aid in February 2024. The SmartRIC offers up to 37 hours of battery in between charges and comes with a portable charger that holds up to 5 additional full day charges.

Phonak released the Audéo Lumity in August 2022 and focuses on giving users improved speech understanding with its unique Phonak SmartSpeech Technology. It is available with a rechargeable or disposable battery option.

5 TIPS TO PROTECT YOUR HEARING AIDS IN THE SUMMER

Summertime heat, humidity, and moisture can wreak havoc on hearing aids. Here's how to protect them:

MALLORY PARIKH

Mallory graduated in 2010 from Lanier Technical College with an Associates degree in Medical Assisting. Since then, she has been able to perform many different front and back medical office tasks. She enjoys being in the medical field where she can care for and serve others. In her free time, she enjoys spending time with family, attending sporting events with her 2 boys, and being a member of 12 Stone Church.

Elizabeth joined the John's Creek front office team in February of 2024. She enjoys being active, hanging out with her friends, and reading a good book. Elizabeth is eager to get to know our patients as well as welcome new ones!

ELIZABETH STOVALL

STACIE WILSON

Stacie, formally of John's Creek, has joined our front office staff in the Gainesville location. She also assists behind the scenes in our billing and insurance department. She is excited to engage with our Gainesville patients!
